

*Leatrice
Damiana*

Leatrice started dancing at 18 months old, in her grandmother's living room. Her grandmother was a professional dancer, so dancing runs in her family. As soon as she was old enough her mother signed her up for dance classes. She went on to train at several dance schools in South Jersey. From age 2 to 18 Leatrice took classes in tap, jazz, ballet, lyrical, hip-hop, and gymnastics. After High School Leatrice continued dancing at Pennsylvania State University, where she took ballet, modern and ballroom dance classes. College was where Leatrice found her love of ballroom dance, and she has continued to train in the standard ballroom dances, waltz, tango, Viennese waltz, foxtrot, and quickstep, since graduating college. She now competes at the championship level in amateur ballroom.